Hartford University School for Urban Explorations

PARENT PERMISSION FORM WALKING FIELD TRIP

As part of our new focus at Hartford, we want our children to take advantage of the many resources at UWM and in the neighborhood around the school. Students frequently engage in learning activities at the university, visit nearby community locations (such as the Riverside Urban Environmental Center, or Lake Park), or take walking field trips to explore the neighborhood. Students are always accompanied by at least one adult on such occasions. These activities are very important parts of the regular curriculum at Hartford, and students who do not participate are missing out on the kind of learning that makes Hartford University School for Urban Explorations special.

We would like your permission for your child to participate in walking field trips as the occasion arises while enrolled at Hartford.
